Corregimiento la Mina

We are in close proximity to the township of La Mina, which belongs to the municipalities of Fredonia and Venecia.

Any developments or improvements in La Mina had to be agreed upon by the authorities of Venecia and Fredonia.

This has represented a major challenge for Bellhaven, we have put extra effort and are successfully moving our projects along.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

Bellhaven designs its social programs considering the existing economic, social and Environmental conditions.

The mining activity is finite, exploration, developing and reclamation will occur in a determined amount of time. Bellhaven is focused on providing the impacted communities with skills and competencies that will allow them to have better living standards beyond the life of the mining activity, as such Bellhaven has decided to focus on 2 strategic areas:

- Improve health conditions
- Improve education standards

COMMUNITY RELATIONS / HEALTH FOCUS

Bellhaven championed the reopening of the clinic that serves the nearby town of La Mina.

It will serve more than 4,000 people
from the town and surrounding communities.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS / EDUCATION FOCUS

Bellhaven is focused on elevating the education level of the people in the surrounding communities.

Bellhaven works closely with the local schools and contributes with school supplies, sports supplies retrofitting the school and sponsoring different events.

This year we are also focusing on the responsible mining education workshops, we are educating the community on the mining business, the different stages and what we are doing to mitigate the social and environmental disruptions.

We periodically organize tours to our facilities and drill sites, thus the community gets educated about mining exploration.

ENVIRONMENTAL

Bellhaven has adopted the Environmental regulations of the World Bank.

Bellhaven conducts periodic monitoring of streams and water bodies within the La Mina area and a database of collected values are kept.

The goal is to detect any changes in water quality that might result from Bellhaven's drilling or other project activities, as well as from other causes not related to Bellhaven's activities.

The Company also cultivates a nursery of local plant species at the La Mina camp. These specimens are used for re-vegetation of drill pads and other disturbances.

SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY / NEXT STEPS

Community Relations

- As the project expands, Bellhaven will also expand its programs focusing on:
- Improving education and health services for the surrounding communities.

Environmental Management

- Environ International Corporation will start this year an environmental and social impact study in the La Mina area.
- Bellhaven will continue its reclamation activities at the different drill pads.
